Mountain Rust Ledge stone 5 SQFT END PANELS

Mountain Rust natural stone panels have a classic look. Ledge stone™ is a rough cut, split face stone with a weathered finish. The varying profiles of the stone give it depth and texture while showcasing the natural beauty of the stone. As the light falling on the stone changes throughout the day, so does the look of the stone, as the varying depths cast a variety of shadows. Similar in color to our Terracotta, Mountain Rust is made of a warm slate with a multitude of deep earth tones ranging from blues to rust for an overall deep rust color. Pair with Mountain Rust Ledge stone Corners and matching accessories.
